And this is how it all begins —

The love of reading enables a man to exchange
the wearisome hours of life for hours of delight —

Man's need to create is a compulsion to impress upon himself his individuality —

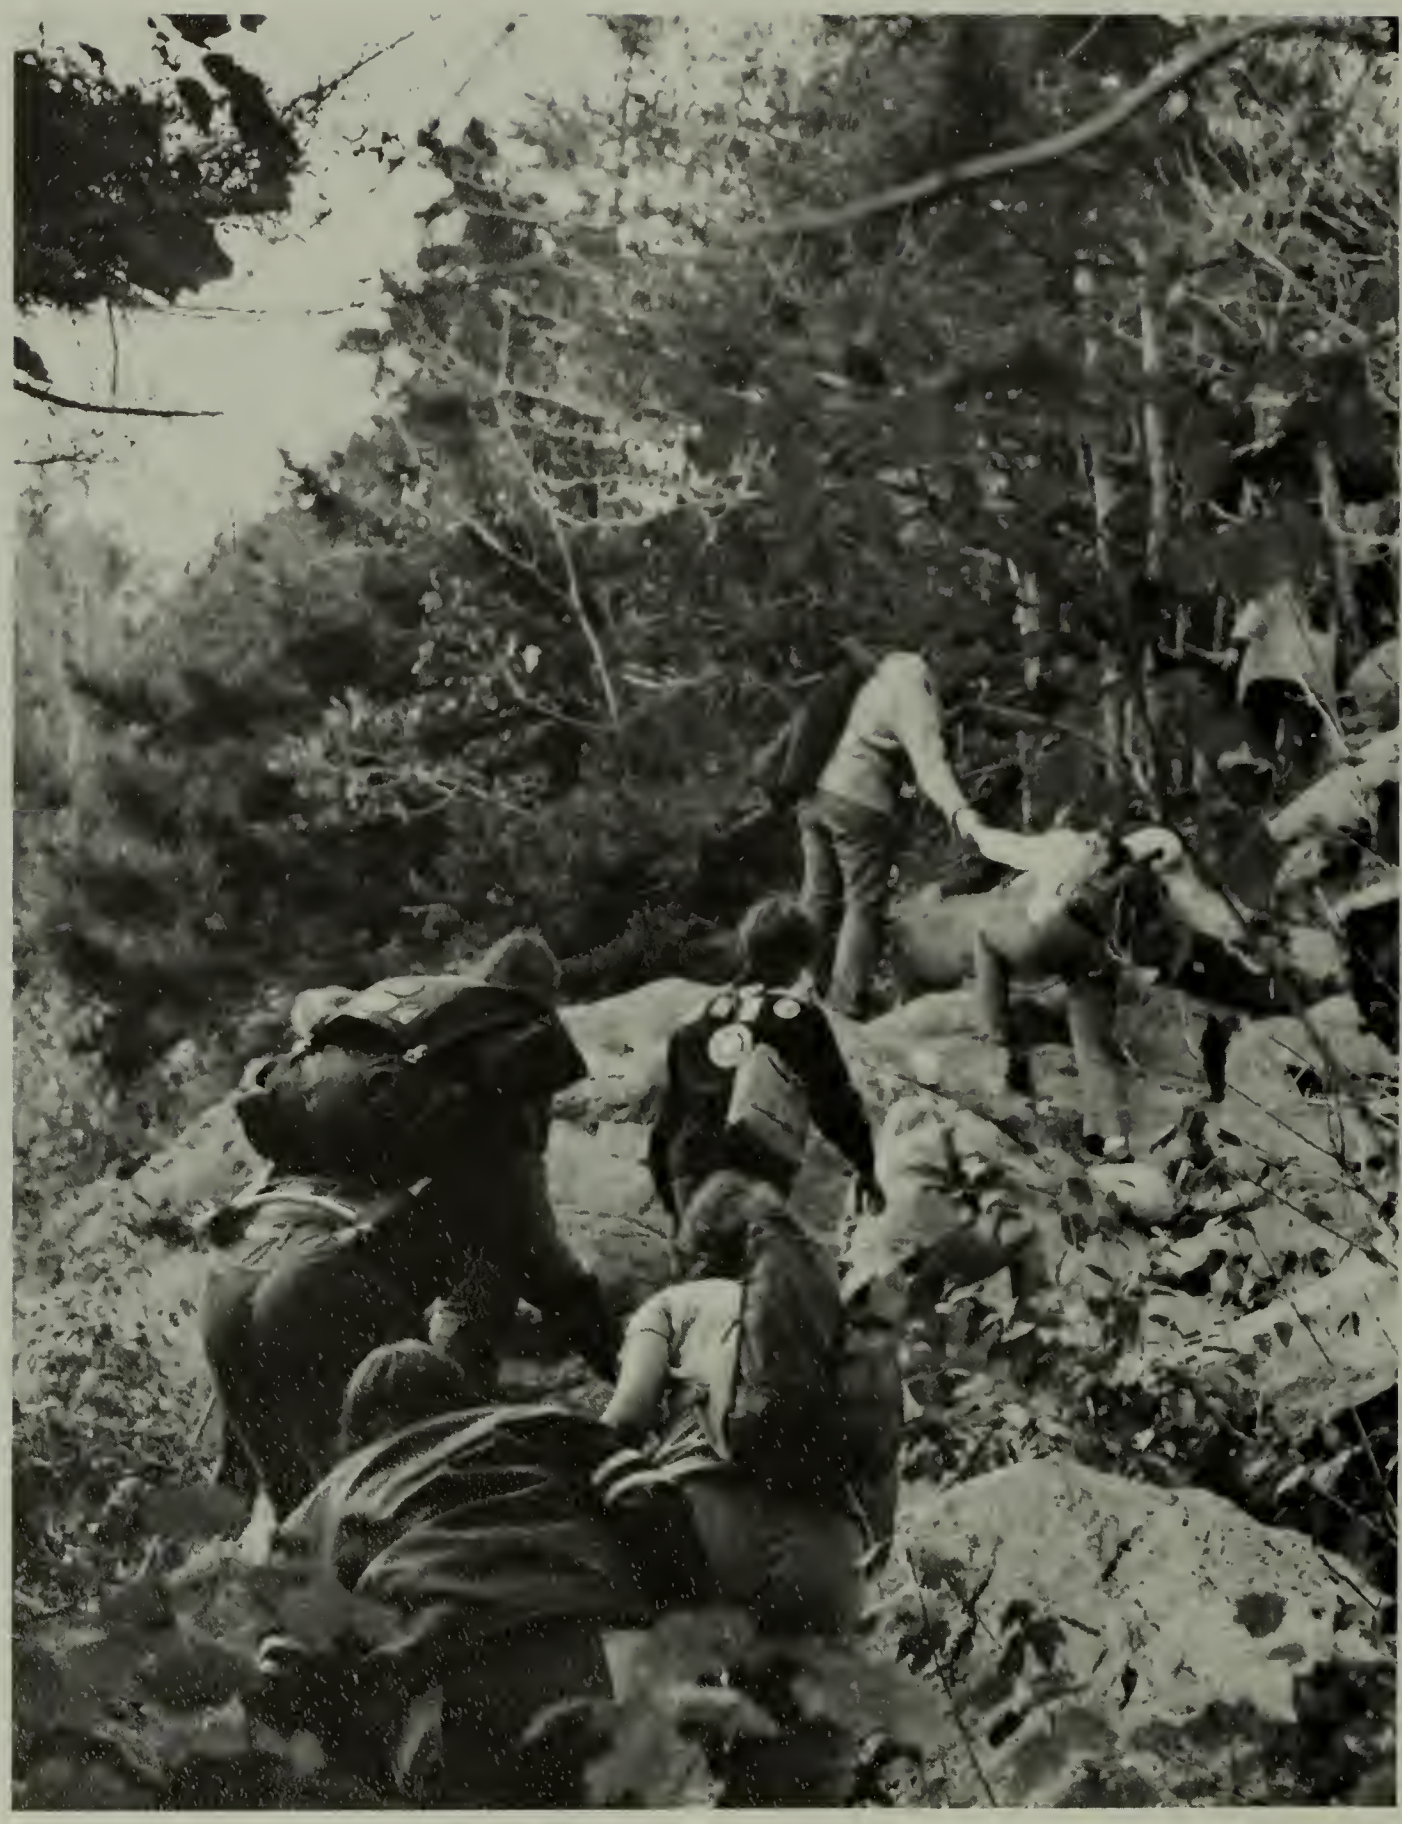

Man, is a tool-using animal . . . without tools he is nothing, with tools he is all. — Carlyle —

Cherish the music that stirs in your heart

The mind has reasons that only the heart can understand

Daring the unknown and your insecurity to reap the beauty that is nowhere else to be found —

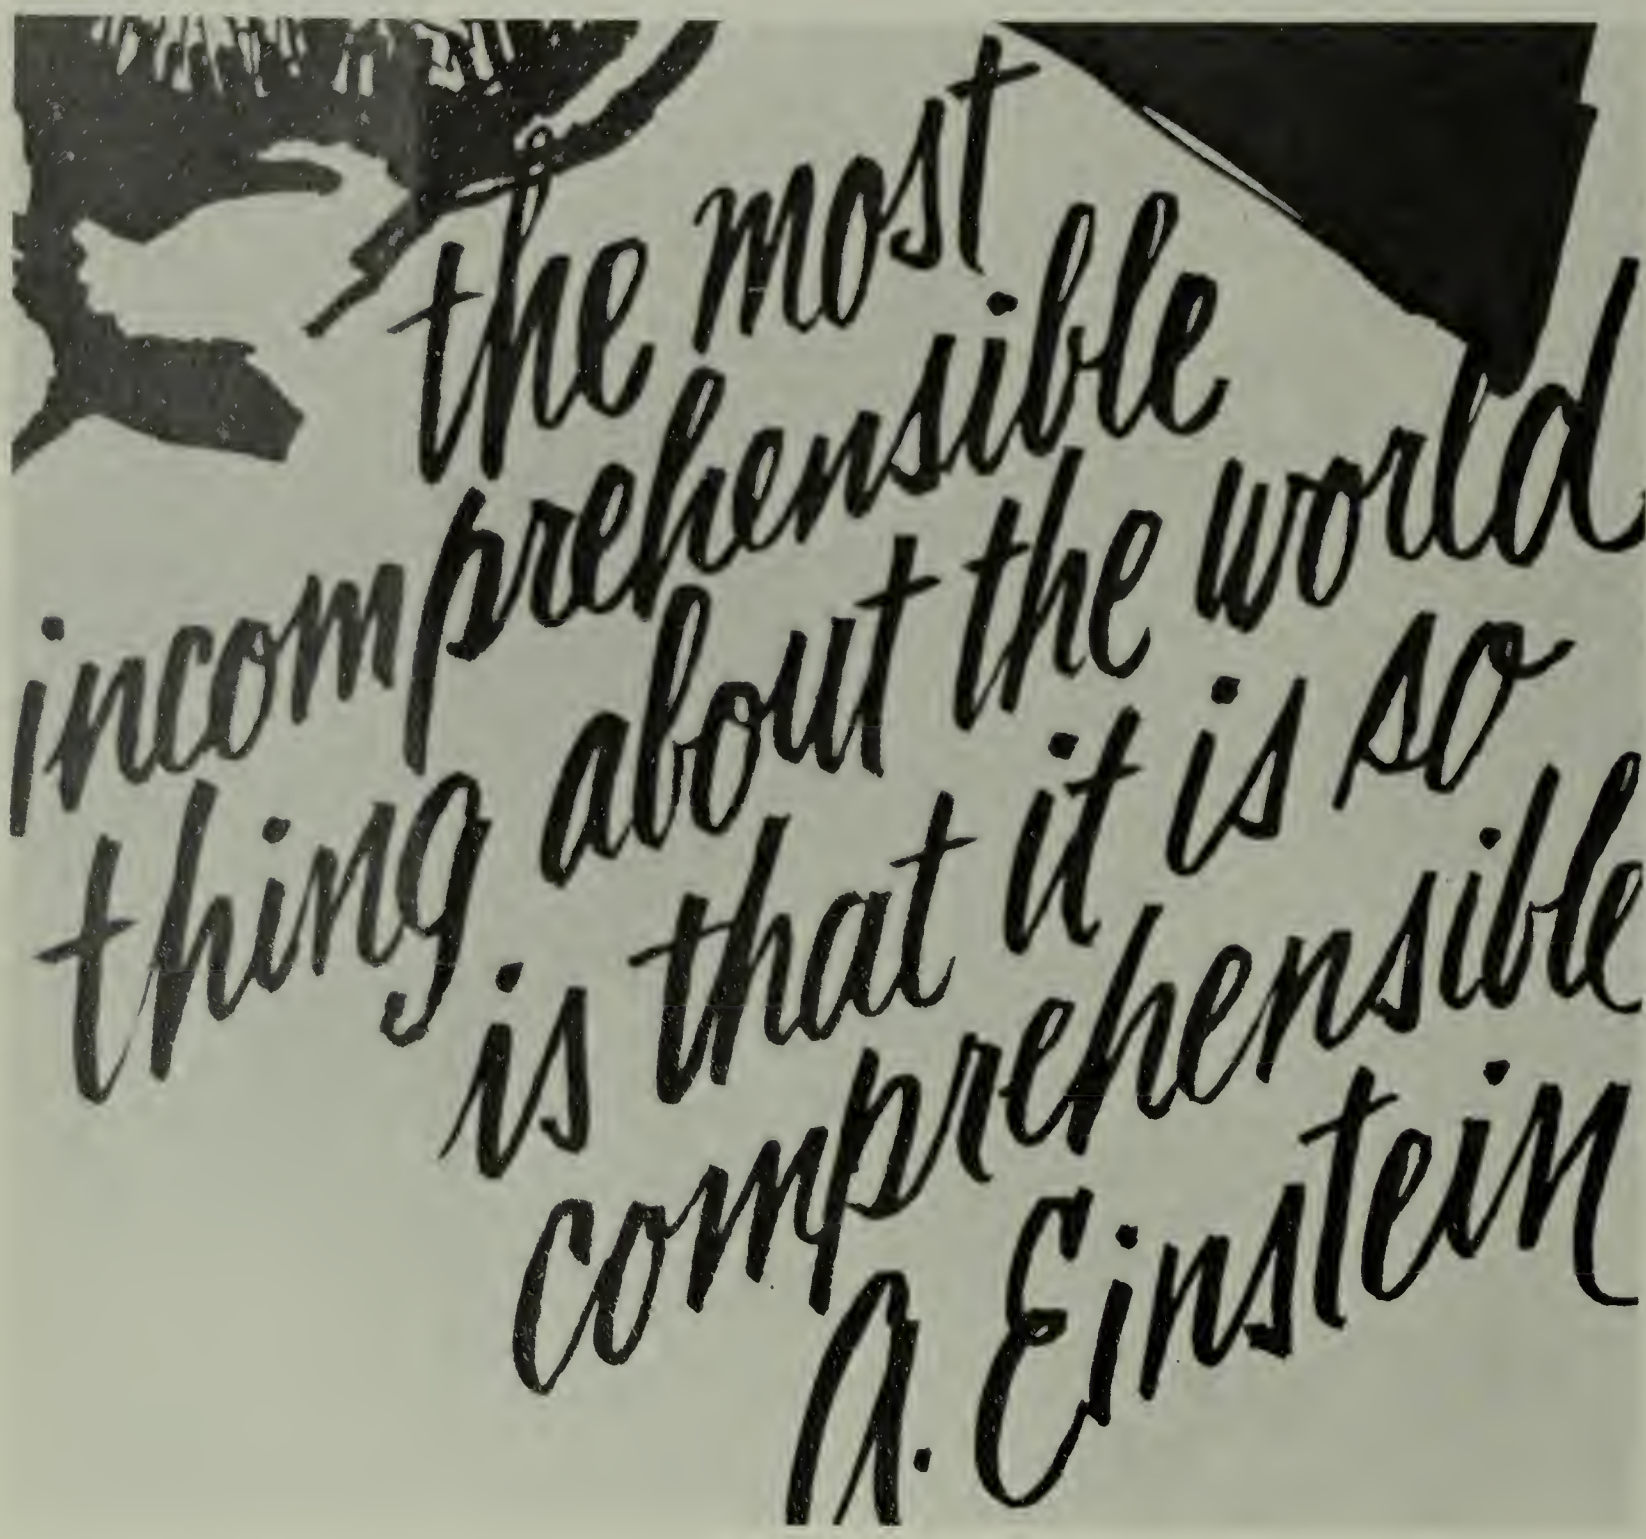

To love and be loved is the greatest happiness of existence —

To tolerate, so that a challenge becomes a pleasure —

They never overlook a mistake, or make the smallest allowance for ignorance—

the most incomprehensible
thing about the world is that it is so
comprehensible
A. Einstein

PROLOGUE

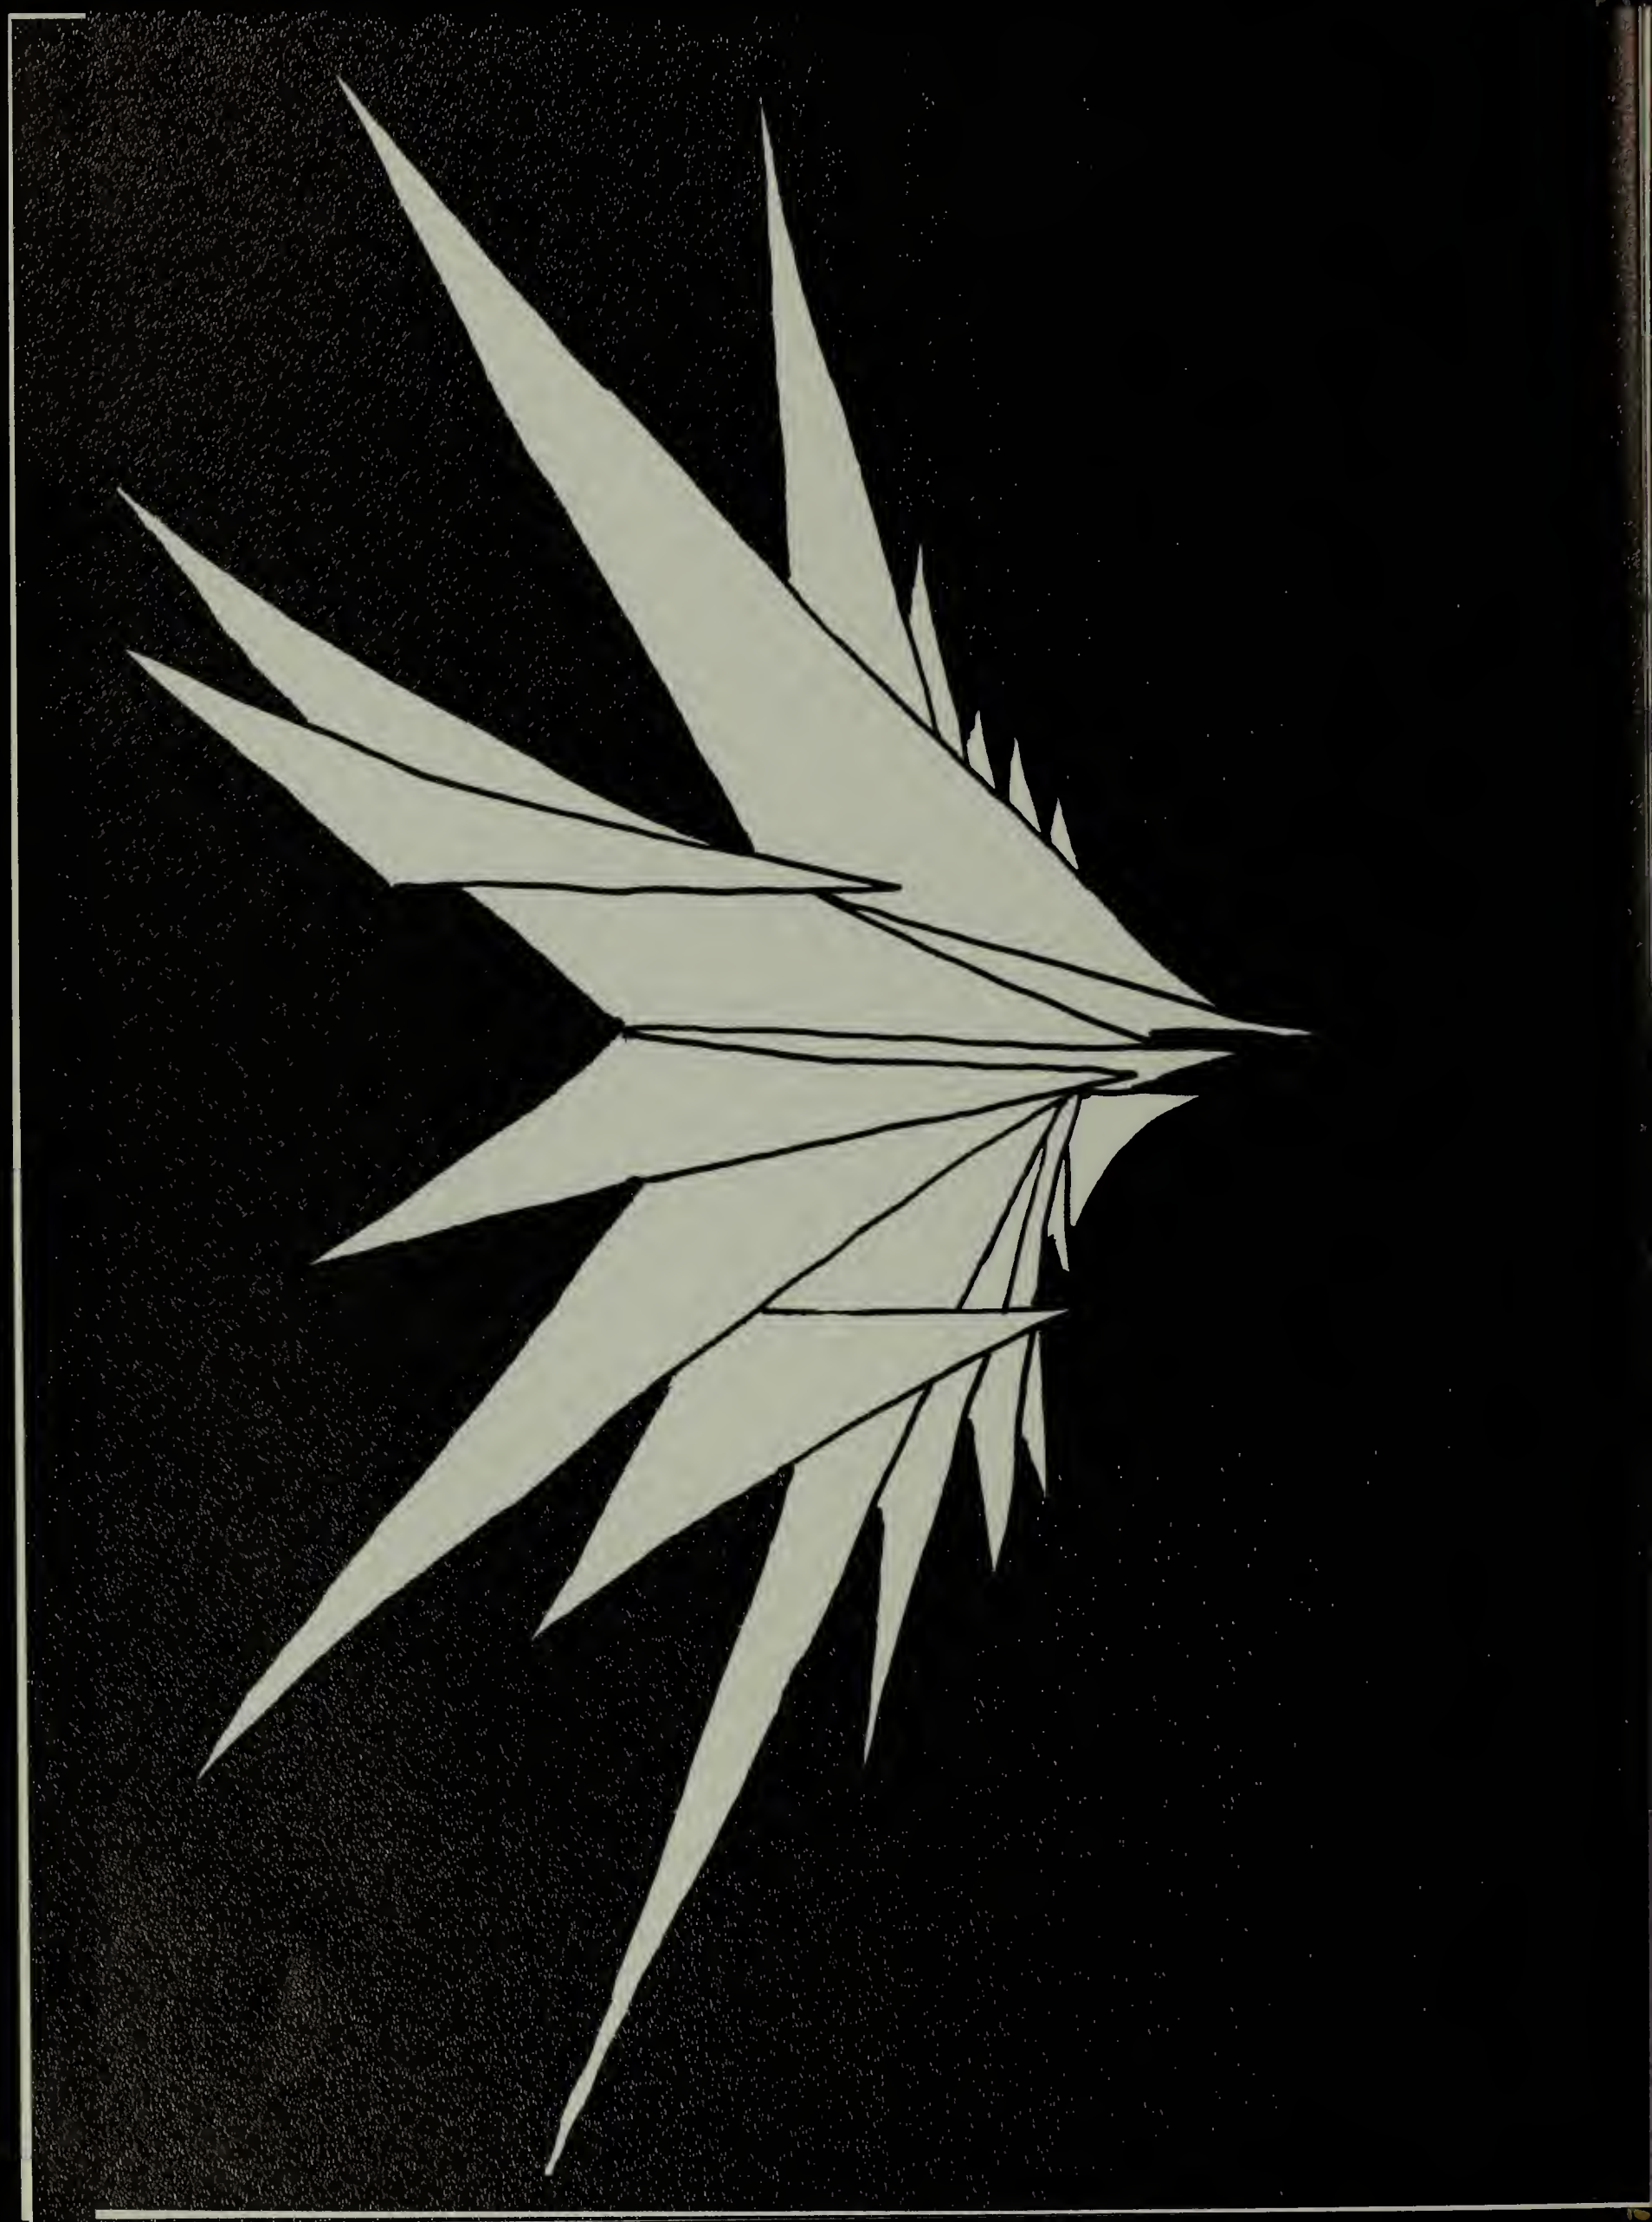

Joseph Conrad expressed his reason for writing in these meaningful words:

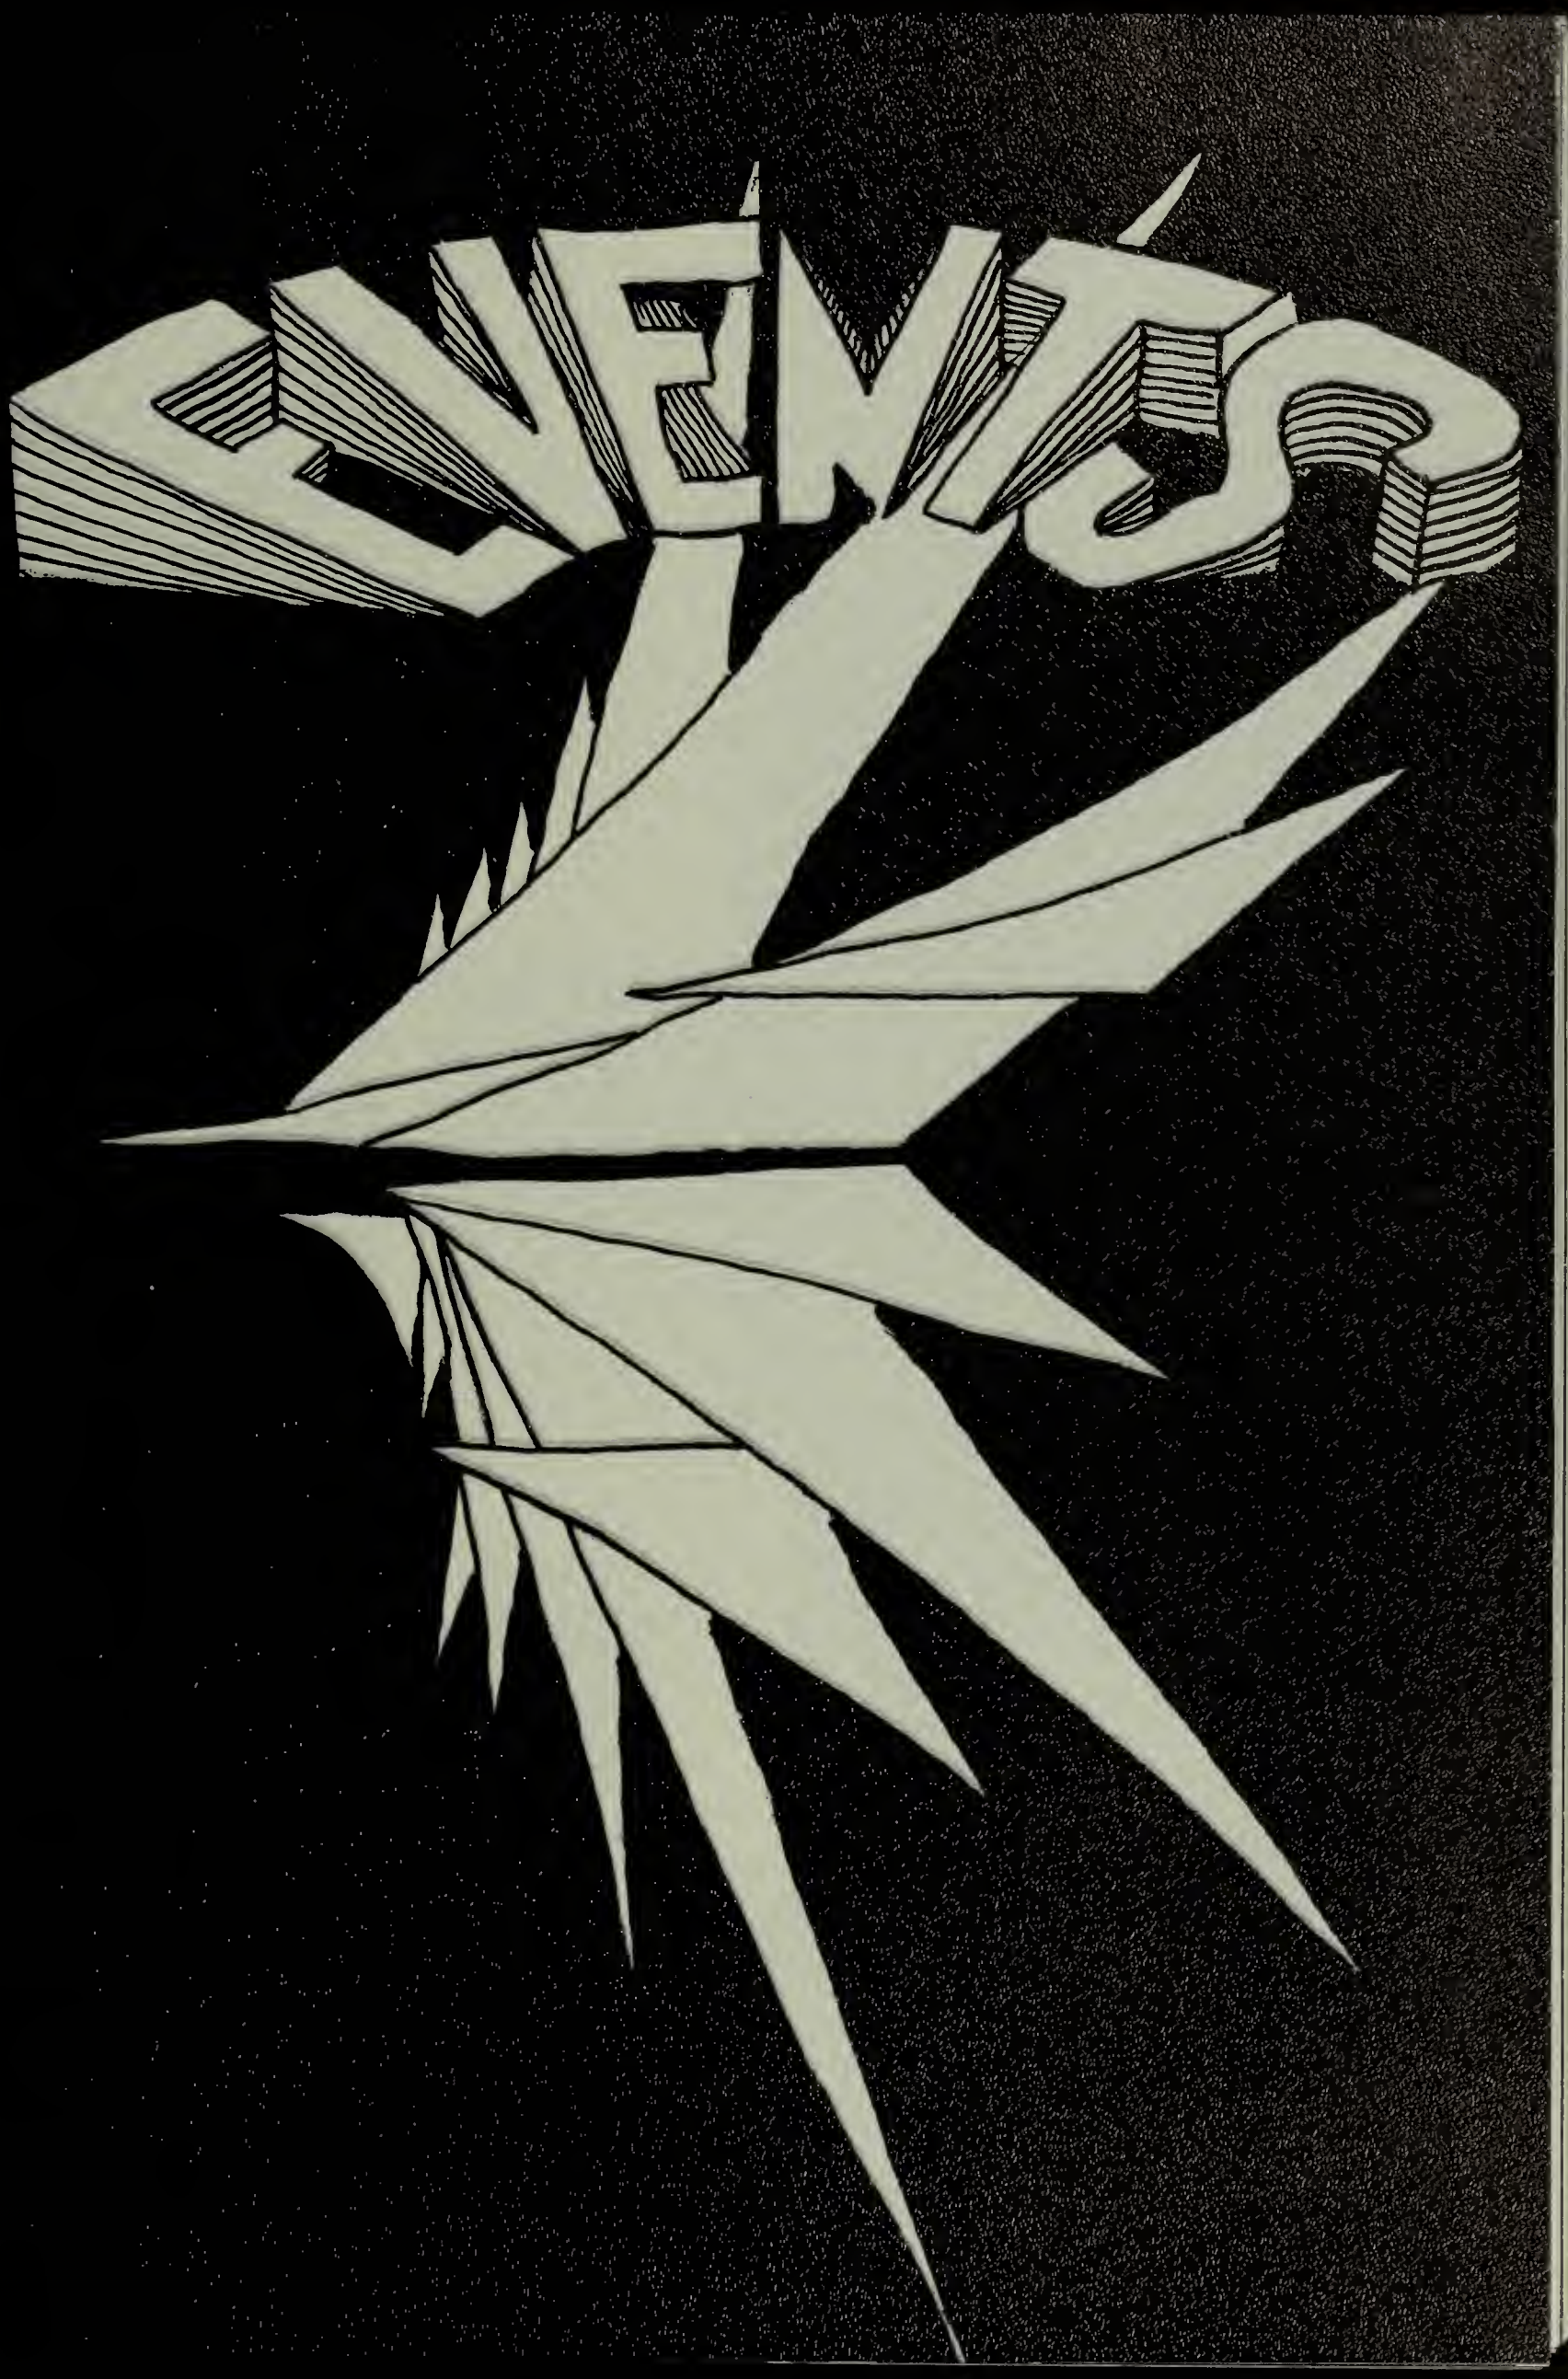

> To arrest, for the space of a breath, the hands busy about the work of the earth, and compel men entranced by the sight of distant goals to glance for a moment at the surrounding vision of form and color, of sunshine and shadows; to make them pause for a look, for a sigh, for a smile. . .

So, too, we, the editors of the 1973 CHIEFTAIN, have, within this book, attempted to attract the attention of you, our peers, so that you, will also pause for a moment to reflect upon the possibilities and opportunities for personal growth which may be attained during your four years at King Philip.

The extent and nature of this growth will be determined almost solely by your attitude toward and your acceptance of "the surrounding vision." Your personal attitude will determine academic, vocational and social success. It will, also, determine whether or not you succeed in developing your innate talents, be they creative in the aesthetics of art, music, drama or literature; physical in the areas of professional sports; professional in science, engineering, medicine, law, business or teaching; or skilled as builders, machinists and home-makers.

The Choice Is Yours

Epilogue

We, the editors of the 1973 CHIEFTAIN hope that we have succeeded in portraying King Philip as a medium for self development. No matter how we choose to grow, academically, creatively, vocationally, or socially, it is important that we do grow. Although frustration and disillusionment may be overwhelming at times, it is essential to look beyond these deterrents to progress to catch a glimpse of "the surrounding vision of form and color, of sunshine and shadows" and the beauty of one man's hand touching another's. Whether or not we can overcome the disappointments of life to fulfill ourselves is dependent only upon our basic attitudes.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

New England Telephone An equal opportunity employer
